How your information is used in connection with your application.

The 'information' means the information you have given us, which we pass on to the finance provider (hereinafter referred to as "they", "them", or "their",), or which they receive from their enquiries and searches at credit reference and fraud prevention agencies. This applies to all applicants, including directors and partners if the application is made by a limited company, partnership or an unincorporated association.

They'll check your details with credit reference and fraud prevention Agencies, and these Agencies will record the check. They will provide the Agencies with your current and previous names, addresses and dates of birth of all parties, so if you are providing information about others, on a joint application, you must be sure that you have their agreement. The Agencies will provide them with public information about you and any third party financially linked to you; information such as county court judgements (CCJs) and bankruptcies, electoral register and fraud prevention information on you and your known financial associates, current and previous names, addresses, and dates of birth. If false or inaccurate information is provided and fraud is identified, details will be passed to fraud prevention agencies. Law enforcement agencies may access and use this information.

The Agency searches that they make will leave a search footprint, both in their records and on your credit file at the Agencies they've used, whether or not this application proceeds. If the search was for a credit application, the record of that search (but not their name) may be seen by other organisations when you apply for credit in the future. If you made a joint application they will link together the records of the joint applicants, called financial associates. They will also link all your previous and subsequent names and addresses. Links between financial associates will remain on your and their files until such time as you or your associates successfully files for a disassociation with the credit reference agencies.

Information provided may be supplied to and used by the Agencies to assess you and your household for: credit and credit related services; motor, household, credit, life and other insurance proposals and claims; debt tracing and recovery; checking details of job applicants and employees; prevention of fraud and money laundering; managing your accounts; statistical analysis about credit, insurance and fraud; market research, and to verify your identity if you or your financial associate applies for other facilities, including all types of insurance applications and claims. They may access and use the information recorded by fraud prevention agencies from other countries. Information about you may also be used for other purposes for which you have given specific information, or, in very limited circumstances, when required by law or where permitted under the terms of the Data Protection Act 1998.

They may disclose your information to other subsidiaries or associates of their organisation. Credit scoring techniques will be used to assess your application. If you want a copy of the information held about you we will supply you with details of who to contact and how.

Subject to availability, credit approval and manufacturers price changes. Please be advised this is an application for credit and the 'information' you have provided will be processed in accordance with the Data Protection Act. How this 'information' is treated is set out in page 3 of this application. Upon approval the goods and services as specified above will be ordered and arranged on your behalf by NCA. In signing this application you are agreeing to the above and that you are agreeing to the terms and conditions as set out.
